

LORELEI MCBROOM

BIOGRAPHY-

"I grew up on folk, rock 'n roll, pop, jazz, and good soul music. My family was progressive in their approach to my upbringing," says the Los Angeles born singer who has worked with acts like BILLY IDOL, CHRIS ISSAK, MIKI HOWARD, ROD STEWART and most recently STEVE HACKETT (former member of Genesis).

As fate would have it, PINK FLOYD (the Godfathers of Psychedelia) gave Lorelei her first exposure to the road on their "Momentary Lapse of Reason" and "Delicate Sound of Thunder" tours. She followed that by touring with the ROLLING STONES. Both the Stones and The Floyd gave her the chance to be both operatic and bluesy, featuring her in duet with MICK JAGGER on "GIMMIE SHELTER" and "GREAT GIG IN THE SKY" respectively.

Early on Lorelei's singing, songwriting and arranging talent caught the attention of producer NILE RODGERS (CHIC, MADONNA, DAVID BOWIE) who recorded her songs with SISTER SLEDGE and PHILLIP BAILEY of Earth Wind and Fire with whom she sang featured vocal harmonies. Lorelei's additional credit highlights include: LOU REED (backing him with GRACE JONES & DEBBIE HARRY) AARON NEVILLE, DONNY OSMOND, ALBERT COLLINS, and the WE ARE FAMILY FOUNDATION All Stars. WAFF is an organization Lorelei continues to support and work with at their annual fund raising Galas whenever she's in New York off tour.

Lorelei has performed in film with The Rolling Stones, for Spike Lee in "Summer of Sam", Malcolm Lee in "The Best Man", on television on the Grammy's with Lou Reed, "Live in Venice" with Pink Floyd, "Live in Barcelona" with The Rolling Stones, "On The Road" with Mark Collie, numerous music videos, live concert tours and in the recording studio. She has ventured into the world of production, co-producing music for Xbox, movie house commercials and promoting Classic R&B and House Music concert events for the internationally renowned Underground Network and Soul Party NYC.

A brief move back to LA in 2008 led to an amazing series of appearances on LA's premier Classic Rock and R&B radio station K Earth 101 FM with morning show DJ Gary Bryan. He honored Ms. McBroom's career by interviewing her, a record 7 times in 2010! The interviews included 3 guest spots singing live for the stations 'Office of the Day' winners and a featured series called "On the road with Rod Stewart". Conducted during his 'Soul Book Tour', Rod and the band visited Europe, (with highlights throughout the UK), Dubai, Tel Aviv, and Moscow. "Rod is one of my favorite singers and his band is soulful and rockin'! Gary Bryan is a terrific DJ, host and person, and I will always be grateful to him for the features he did with me!"

In the fall of 2011 Lorelei joined The Australian Pink Floyd Show, known as the world's BEST Pink Floyd tribute band. They tour annually throughout Europe, the US and Canada. Lorelei and her sister Durga McBroom (who made guest appearances in 2011 and 2012) performed and videotaped a duo version of "Great Gig In the Sky" with the Aussies. The YouTube posting of their Anaheim California performance is approaching 300,000 views. "I really missed Pink Floyd's music and given David Gilmour's statement after Richard Wright's death in 2008 that Pink Floyd would never tour again, that lead me to the world's best Floydian tribute band. I am proud to work with them! It's also wonderful to have continuous work performing this wonderful catalog of material around the planet. 24 years and counting says a lot for The Australian Pink Floyd's credibility. While working with Nick Mason & Durga McBroom, at the "Goodwood Festival of Speed" during the summer of 2012, Nick told me the Aussies have performed more gigs than we (Pink Floyd) did!"

Lorelei and her sister Durga have been singing together; touring Italy and Latin America, building the McBroom Sisters brand. A duo CD is in the works with producer/artist Dave Kerzner. They also recorded featured backing vocals on Steve Hackett's upcoming release in 2018.

Lorelei will continue to build her production company McBroom Media LLC. She'll expand her focus to include backing and lead singing for multiple projects that interest her. "Let's see what the future holds. I will be contributing to music, film and television for years to come.
